

Teach real-world financial literacy, for FREE

Are your kids ready for real life?

It's tough telling teens what life's really like as an adult. Here's an idea: show, don't tell. Show them how a ten dollar job isn't really ten dollars an hour. Show them the true costs of living without insurance. Let students experience life's pitfalls for themselves.

Banzai helps young people learn by doing. Over a million children nationwide, aged 8 to 18, have already used Banzai to learn about finance in the real world, at no cost.

Every day my students ask, "When is the next time we will use Banzai?"
